PARALLEL WORLDS

Two worlds within one house

At The Governor House, every room carries its own mood.
As you move through the house, the experience changes.
One space invites quiet conversation and the slow appreciation of aged spirits.
Another is lively and expressive, where cocktails celebrate fresh ingredients and bold flavours.

These rooms exist side by side — like parallel worlds within the same house.
The Council Chamber is devoted to the craft of brown spirits. Here, whiskies, cognacs and aged rums are explored through curated pours and tasting rituals that celebrate depth, heritage and time.

The Governor's Garden offers a different rhythm. Cocktails are built around fresh produce, house sodas, pickles and seasonal ingredients. Techniques may be complex, but the drinks remain clean, balanced and easy to enjoy.
The menu is organised by flavour and mood, allowing you to discover drinks that suit how you feel in the moment.

Wherever you begin, you are stepping into a house where tradition and creativity exist in parallel.
